SHACKELFORD TELLS OF THINGS ABROAD

Entertains Rotarians With Interesting and Informal Description of Europe As He Saw It

A very interesting yet informal talk by Judge W. R. Shackelford on a few of his impressions in England and France this summer was the feature of the regular weekly luncheon of the Richmond Rotary Club at the Hotel Glyndon Tuesday at noon.

Judge Shackelford said that perhaps the club members felt like he did, that nothing was such a bore as a fellow who had been somewhere, standing around and shooting off his mouth about where he had been and what he had seen upon every occasion. But he appreciated the invitation of the Rotarians and wouldn't talk them to death. He spent most of his summer at Sandown in England but traveled across the channel to the war zone of France. He praised the French train on which he went from Havre to Paris and said all French trains are running in good shape. He went to Rheims and saw the famous cathedral which has not been completely destroyed, notwithstanding it was under constant bombardment from the Germans for four years. He attended services in one corner of the cathedral on Sunday and noticed the central arches still intact.

The Judge was impressed by his railway journey with the way the French cultivate their forests as American farmers do their crops. Trees will be cut out and others planted at once to replace them. At Fimes where the American soldiers first came in contact with the Germans, he noticed the trees all destroyed. He noticed no farm homes scattered about over the country. Most of the French farmers live in villages, a small cluster of stone houses, and the go out to their farms each day, none of them having fences. He saw where many of these village homes had been destroyed; in fact, in the war zone practically all had been leveled; some localities not a stone remaining on another. Rheims impressed him as did Pompeii, the famous Roman city, destroyed by the volcano, Mt. Aetna, and excavated centuries later.

Great holes were noticed all over the battle area where shell had plowed through the scarred covering of soil into the chalkbeds which underlie all France. In some places these are being filled. He saw the famous Aisne river, the site of so much fighting; this is about as large a stream, as Silver Creek, he said, but the French divert much of the water from their rivers into canals. Piles of barbed wire used for entrenchments during the war interested him. The German wire seemed much better than the French. The French lost many men when planting their wire, for they used wooden stakes and sharpshooters among the enemy picked off the Frenchmen as they drove their stakes at night, by the sound. On the other hand, the German wire was held by iron posts with a cork-screw sort of effect which was screwed into the ground and made no noise.

The French roads are right now better than here in Madison, Judge Shackelford said, for though the French have not rebuilt many of their towns and cities, they have given their roads attention. Few are riding, though, for much of the livestock is gone and there is little cattle.

France seemed quite prosperous, the Judge said, but Germany is the most prosperous country in Europe at present. This is so notwithstanding the fact that the governments of both countries are bankrupt. The German government takes no taxes but prints its money as it needs it. He believed the German government would finally go through bankruptcy to keep from paying its creditors and the indemnities. He said though, the entire war indemnity, if paid, would not repair the damage done to France. He saw no beggars in France, but England is full of them. This is largely due to England's unemployment pension, a payment to those for support who could not obtain work after the war and which has grown to large proportions since then. Paris is as beautiful as ever and deserves its title as the most beautiful city in the world. Everybody is working there.

Judge Shackelford said the impression he gained was that England and France have not the best feeling over the German reparations. He said that England seems secretly encouraging Germany not to pay, for she wants the Germans to keep their money and buy goods from her with it.

Nobody likes an American over there, he said, neither among the former Allies, nor in Germany. He said that in the war both sides seemed to have sat down, dug in and waited. When the Americans got there there was something doing immediately and no more sitting down. Now, it was like the case of a man who goes on a man's note and has paid it. And the debtor will often hate his benefactor ever after if he's dishonest and wants to get out of paying. America paid the bill of the war and wants her money back from England, France and the rest and they don't want to pay, and consequently they don't like America. They can't understand why America should not have wanted something more than payment of her honest debt after the war, also. Judge Shackelford said that he told an Englishman that it seemed to him that all the United States got out of the war was a cable station at Yap—and she had to threaten another war to get that—an offer of the mandate over Armenia and now the privilege of paying the German indemnity. The Judge thought that Europeans in general would better be able to appreciate and understand Americans if they had demanded something more tangible and compensating than they did get out of the war.

His talk was very interesting, throwing informal sidelights and personal impressions on conditions in Europe that cannot often be obtained.

In the absence of President Carpenter, who is on his vacation, Vice President R. E. Turley presided. There was a splendid attendance at the meeting and the menu served by the hotel was unusually good.

BATTLE OF RICHMOND 60 YEARS AGO TODAY

Sixty years ago today, August 30th, 1862, Richmond was in great excitement. It was then Aug. 30th, 1862, and the day that marked the battle of Richmond in the Civil War.

Many elder citizens can remember it well. Gen. Kirby Smith led a large force of Confederate soldiers through Cumberland Gap toward Richmond. His cavalry met that of Mettall's regiment on Big Hill and soon routed them. The Federal soldiers fled toward their main body at Richmond, panic stricken. The Confederate soldiers continued to advance and met the Union soldiers at Mt. Zion church, six miles east of Richmond, where they soon had them fleeing. Another stand was made in the Richmond cemetery but with no better result.

Here General Nelson took command of the new Union troops who had little military experience. General Manson had been in command previous to the advent of Nelson. After the unsuccessful stand in the Richmond cemetery the Yankees fled toward Lexington, making one final stand near the Shelby Irvine place with the same success as before.

The fight was a running one all the time. Women and children of Richmond were ordered out of the town, Union generals fearing a bombardment. The green Yankee troops from Indiana and Michigan were no match for the veteran Confederates who outnumbered them slightly. A great many were killed and many wounded. These were taken care of in the Madison Institute, First Christian church and Mt. Zion church, all of which were used as hospitals. This was one of the few battles fought in Kentucky. The Confederates soon retired to Tennessee, leaving the state to the Union men.

WILSON NEW HEAD OF STATE LEGIONAIRES

Lexington Man Wins Highest Honors At Glasgow Convention—Strong Resolutions

Glasgow, Ky., Aug. 30—The Kentucky department of the American Legion went on record in favor of a state bonus here Tuesday, elected W. C. Wilson, of Lexington, commander to succeed Emmett O'Neal, of Louisville, adj. adjourned to meet in Ashland in 1923.

The resolution calling for adjusted compensation in Kentucky passed without protest or negative vote. Another resolution declared the Kentucky Legionaire to be the official publication of the state department. Brent C. Nunally, of Louisville, chosen state adjutant, will be editor with offices in Louisville.

Four vice commanders elected are Adjutant General Jackson Morris, of Frankfort; Colonel H. H. Denhardt, of Bowling Green; Paul M. Underwood, of Lebanon; W. F. Miller, of Lancaster. Frank Clerget, of Louisville, was chosen treasurer, the Rev. J. W. Webber, of Paducah, chaplain and I. J. Domenick, of Covington, sergeant-at-arms. Emmett O'Neal was named Kentucky member of the national executive committee, with S. S. Jones, of Louisville, retiring adjutant, as alternate.

A parade was held, thousands lining the sidewalks around the public square. Other resolutions adopted: Call on congress to retire Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, of Ft. Thomas, the war's greatest hero, with the rank of captain.

Urge each post to work for good roads and better schools. Condemn the Young Workers' International for its "un-American activities."

Call for creation of additional chapters of the woman's auxiliary.

Urge immediate passage of the national bonus bill by the United States Senate.

Immediate erection in this district of a federal hospital to care for the men disabled by the shock was recommended in a report made by Dr. A. T. McCormack, for the rehabilitation committee. Kentucky men so suffering are now cared for at Lakehurst, it was brought out, where it is impossible to give the proper treatment. The report was adopted.

The report of the Americanization committee, also adopted, was as follows: "We favor legislation requiring that the national colors be flown during the working hours of each working day over each and every building containing any public offices, and over all school buildings."

"That a children of the public schools be required to repeat in unison some recognized pledge of allegiance to America and to salute the flag at least once each week."

"That this convention take definite action in opposition to such organizations as the Young Workers' International, which is teaching principles contrary to Americanism."

"That we condemn the activities of certain parties, who are soliciting pledges binding our citizens to refuse support to our nation in time of crisis."

"That this convention provide for an appropriation to assist the Kentucky branch of the American council of defense in the promotion of its principles and ideals."

In placing the name of C. W. Wilson in nomination for commander, Judge Samuel M. Wilson said of him as "a man, a real, genuine man, a soldier and gentleman," who would perform faithfully and well his duties to the Legion.

The funeral of Edwin Oldham, killed in an automobile accident in Milwaukee, was held in Lexington Wednesday morning.

Dr. James K. Patterson, former president emeritus of the University of Kentucky, left the bulk of his estate to that institution.

Oscar G. Kipping, of Carrollton, is a new colonel on the staff of Governor Morrow.

POSSE CAPTURES THREE MOONSHINERS

In Raid Near Big Hill Wednesday Morning—Worm Is Brought To Richmond

Three more alleged moonshiners were captured and a still, including the worm, destroyed Wednesday morning when Sheriff Elmer Deatherage and five deputies raided a section over Big Hill. Those captured were Wilsoa Settle, Raleigh Settle and Daily Lamb. All of the men were armed with pistols which were taken from them. They are in the Madison county jail at present, not having given bond as yet.

Raleigh Settle is the son of Wilson Settle and is only 17 years of age. Lamb is also a young fellow. Wilson Settle was thought to have been operating a still for some time by officers, but they were waiting for the right time so as to catch him with the goods on him. They say they surely did it. When the officers came upon the men they were all engaged in setting up the still which only recently had been moved from a different location. The officers surprised the men and soon had them under arrest. The worm was brought to Richmond. It is one of the best captured by the officers for some time.

Those who engaged in the raid were Deputy Sheriffs Franklin Deatherage, R. O. Moberly, and Ben Davis, Sheriff Elmer Deatherage and Special Deputies Jas. Turner and Rube Abney. This is another page in the fine work of Sheriff Deatherage who has destroyed a large number of stills since going into office.

TATE'S CREEK BAPTISTS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Brazilian Pastor Tells of Great Work Being Done In South American Country

What many in attendance say is the most interesting and successful session ever held by the old Tate's Creek Baptist Association is being held Tuesday and Wednesday this week with the old Tate's Creek or Republican Baptist church on the Lexington pike, about five miles from Richmond.

This association is composed of the Baptist churches of Madison county, except Union and some of the churches in Garrard and Lincoln counties. The reports from the various churches show that progress was made during the past year.

The first day's session saw the re-election of Elvada Tudor, of Richmond, as moderator, a place he has held with honor and satisfaction for many years. Rev. Ross, pastor of Kirksville and Georgetown, was re-elected clerk. All unite in saying he has made one of the best clerks the association has ever known.

Out of 27 churches, members of the Association, only three or four were not represented by delegates when the first session was called to order. In lieu of the long ceremony of reading the church letters, a large blackboard was placed on one wall and statistics from each church placed thereon so that everybody might refer to it at any time.

The annual associational sermon was preached by Rev. J. C. McClary, pastor of the Baptist church at Crab Orchard. It was a splendid, vigorous message to the churches. Rev. F. L. Soren, pastor of the First Baptist church of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, gave a very interesting account of the work of Baptists in that country. He is a native of Brazil, but was educated in this country and has done a big work in his home field.

The audience was thrilled with the story of the Baptist work in Brazil and especially of the work of the First church in Rio de Janeiro, of which Rev. Soren is pastor. In the twenty years in which he has served this church, numbering only 72 members at first, ten other churches have grown out of this church. The church has three missionary societies and they gave over $3000 last year. Today the First church there with its ten mission stations has a membership of 1,800. The Baptists have a school in this great capital city with sixty teachers and more than 600 pupils.

Everyone enjoyed the splendid lunch that was served at noon. The ladies of the W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. Williams, nearby, and B. Y. P. U. and Laymen delegates each had meetings under trees nearby. In the afternoon devotional exercises were led by Rev. Manley, pastor of the Lancaster church. Rev. W. L. Walker, pastor at Danville, pleased all with his talk on Stewardship. Rev. J. W. Beagle spoke on State Missions and Rev. C. M. Huey touched the hearts of all with his description of the work of the Baptist Orphans' Home and its needs.

COX HAS SOUND VIEWS ON EUROPE

(By Associated Press) London, Aug. 30—James M. Cox, former Democratic candidate for President, whose recent suggestion that Herbert Hoover be sent to Europe to straighten out the reparations tangle, aroused wide-spread interest, today issued a statement saying "there is some measure of reassurance in the Washington statement that the administration will interest itself in economic affairs of Central Europe. Even though Hoover will not be sent here at present let us hope our service will be that of physician and not that of undertaker."

C. & O. SHOP MEN RETURNING TO WORK

Cincinnati, Aug. 30—Strike of shopmen on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad in Cincinnati tremor, which includes shops at Covington and Silver Grove, Ky., is reported by officials of the railroad to have ended. J. A. Morris, chairman of the Cincinnati Operating Committee, said Tuesday night that authentic reports from Covington and Silver Grove showed that 11 men returned to work late Tuesday.

"This is the first break in the strike which amounts to anything," said Mr. Morris. "The men who came back told officials at the shops that others would join them in the morning. Just how many men will return we do not know."

"Talk of agreements under which the men would work is absurd, for the men are coming back, asking for jobs and being received and put to work. This is not railroad propaganda, but plain fact, and those who return will have plenty to do." Railroad officials said that employment of men has been increasing daily, but this is the first concerted action in the nature of a return to work on railroads which previously had employed the men.

H. JOHNSON WINS BY OVER 30,000

(By Associated Press) San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 30—Returns from yesterday's primary served to increased the lead of Hiram Johnson, incumbent, over C. C. Moore for the republican nomination for United States Senator to approximately 30,000. Johnson's lead increased to 39,000 when a little less than half the precincts of the state had reported.

HARD COAL STRIKE ABOUT OVER, TOO

(By Associated Press) Washington, Aug. 30—When the spokesmen for the anthracite operators and miners union left here today after an all-night conference, it was said the only matter to be adjusted to end the strike was the length of time wage contracts should run. The operators were said to be willing to continue war-time wages until next April 1st, while the miners ask much longer time. The conference decided to put the question up to the responsible group which speaks for all the miners and all the employers concerned.

Soft Coal Agreement Signed (By Associated Press) Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 30—The bituminous coal strike in the Pittsburgh district ended today when the Pittsburgh Coal Company signed an agreement with the miners union under the terms of the Cleveland agreement.

CLARENCE SIPLE STIRS UP ANIMALS

... Making Whirlwind Campaign For Congress 'Hoody Eleventh'

Clarence J. Siple, of London, Laurel county, is making 'em all sit and take notice with the campaign for congress he is making against Congressman J. M. Robison in the 11th district. It takes a democrat of real nerve to go against the 20,000 republican majority in the 11th district, but that's just the kind of fellow Siple is. Reports have it that he is assured of a certain majority in his home county of Laurel. Many leading republicans are said to have rallied to his support because of dissatisfaction with Robison's record in congress.

Then encouraging news comes from the adjoining county of Whitley. Siple spoke at Corbin the other day and was introduced to a large and enthusiastic audience by the chairman of the Republican County Committee of Whitley county. When such a high official in a republican organization introduces a democratic candidate, something is very apt to drop when the November election rolls around. Siple has many warm friends all over the state as well as in the 11th district, who would rejoice greatly to see him win this election. He is a vigorous young democrat, clean cut and able and would make the 11th a splendid representative in Congress.

METHODISTS MEET AT HARRODSBURG

Rev. W. O. Sadler, pastor of the Richmond Methodist church, left for Harrodsburg Tuesday where he will attend the Kentucky Methodist Conference which opens there Wednesday morning. Other local members of the Methodist church are expected to be in attendance before the close of the conference. Sessions will begin at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and continue until noon. In the afternoon Bishop Chandler will preach. The public is invited to the services. Bishop Chandler presides.

North League Anniversary will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening with Rev. J. S. Parker, D. D., as the principal speaker. Rev. Jas. E. Savage, Conference President, will preside. The Methodists are gathering from every part of the state and expect a great conference.

Covington, Ky., Aug. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bird, of this city, have started a movement toward the application for a Carnegie medal for Everett Blackburn, who saved the life of their son, Dillard Bird, 15, from drowning in a creek near here. Blackburn, it is said, was crossing a bridge over the creek in his automobile when he heard the mother's screams, leaped from his car over the bridge rail and climbed down the pier to the water pulling young Bird from the water. Blackburn left the scene immediately afterward and it was not until several days ago that his identity became known. He is employed as an engineer on the C. & O. railroad.

Biggest Still is Found in Fayette

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29.—What is believed to be the largest illicit distilling plant in the history of Fayette county was seized by county and federal officers at the Scott county line Monday afternoon. State Prohibition Director Sam Collins, Chief Agent Felix Fields and Sheriff Powell Bosworth were members of the party of seven officers. The plant had a capacity of between 80 and 100 gallons a day and all apparatus was complete in every detail. Coke was burned so as to eliminate smoke and water was obtained from a pond which had gone dry so that the still was not in operation when seized. No arrests were made, the officers declaring they were unable to find even the owner of the land. A dwelling nearby was deserted.

Children's Hour on Big Liner Tremendous Hit With Wee Folk

"Children's Hour" on S. S. George Washington

New York. When Captain Harold A. Cunningham, commander of the Steamship George Washington of the United States Lines, instituted a "Children's Hour" aboard his vessel he little realized the future the innovation would create. He is today being sought after by a number of publishers who are urging him to write a book of the short stories of the sea with which he has clad the hearts of little travelers.

On his recent arrival in port Captain Cunningham was greeted by a pile of mail that fairly staggered him. The letters came from children and grownups who were restless of obtaining copies of the stories told by the genial captain, a creating the "children's hour" aboard the Steamship George Washington, which by the way, is the largest passenger vessel in operation under the American flag, Captain Cunningham wanted to give the two voyagers something they would ever remember.

During the "children's hour" the little travelers are conducted to the office of the captain to listen to stories of the deep, old sea. No grownups are permitted at the session. It is entirely for the little folk. Captain Cunningham has a great liking for children and his hand of sea stories is well-nigh inexhaustible.

Realizing that everything is being done for the comfort and entertainment of the growing Captain Cunningham had that something out of the ordinary should be done for the children and so came into being the "children's hour." The time chosen for the assembly of the children is usually set for the latter part of the afternoon when the captain is free from duty on the bridge. The children are assembled in the ship's lounge and guided by stewards to the captain's quarters. After shaking hands all around the captain greets the children about him and regales them with the story of Davey Jones and his famous locker at the bottom of the sea, the story of the Little Lost Albatross, the Convention of the Fishes, the Flying Dutchman and many others from his limitless repertoire.

The "children's hour" has been one of the most popular innovations introduced aboard the vessels of the United States Lines fleet. The children who have been fortunate enough to experience the thrill of meeting the commander of the big George Washington and listening to his stories have a memory that will never leave them. After the story session the captain allows the children to ask him questions and it is this part of the "children's hour" that is most trying to the commander. Here are some of the questions he is asked:

What makes the ocean blue?

Do they keep a crew in the crow's nest?

How do the sea gulls sleep?

How can you see to steer the boat at night without headlights?

CAT AND DOG HOSPITAL UNIQUE

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 30—There once was a time when the American small boy nursed sometime during the period between infancy and adolescence an ambition that probably few of the boys of the present generation experienced. He, the small boy of those days, was determined to grow up and be a blacksmith.

Times have changed. Where once the spreading chestnut tree shaded the village smithy now an electric sign blazes to the passing world that the establishment of a "garage." The smith with the brawny arms has stepped aside for the motor surgeon with the agile tongue and the ability to convince the automobile owner of unsuspected motor ills.

When the automobile has successfully upset all vital statistics tables with reference to birth and death ratios, blacksmiths automatically were divided into two classes.

Those on one hand continued to shoe horses until the sheriff tacked up the red flag. On the other hand there were smiths who changed their sign from "Smith's Blacksmith Shop" to "Smith's Garage and Repair Shop."

Dr. C. A. Miller, a Louisville veterinarian, took a tip from the garage smiths. When the invasion of the motor car began to make threatening inroads on his business he joined forces with Dr. E. Caldemeyer and the two men opened the "Cat and Dog Hospital." This unique institution proved a success from its opening last September. In the year since its inauguration more than 2,000 cases have been treated at the hospital and it has been necessary to add a third man, Dr. Floyd M. Kearn, to the staff.

Although all animals are admitted to the hospital, dogs seem to get the greatest call.

The majority of dogs, according to Dr. Miller, are killed by kindness. They are petted and cuddled by their owners and as a result become sickly. Digestive troubles are the greatest cause of sickness to come under his observation, he stated, being due to over feeding and lack of exercise.

The temperature of a dog varies according to his temperament, Dr. Miller finds. The average canine temperature is 101 but in the case of a well bred highly intellectual animal, it will run higher.

The same fact holds true in regard to pulse. The average normal pulse for the dog is between 60 and 70.

Recently R. P. Bruce, of Huntington, W. Va., sent to the hospital a collier presented to his daughter some years ago by a governor of that state. The animal, named "Governor," in honor of the donor, was suffering from tumor. An operation was performed and now the patient is "resting nicely."

The hospital has cages, instead of beds, and is divided into two wards, one for the contagious cases and one for boarders and non-contagious cases.

At present a French poodle is among the boarders. The poodle's owner sent to the hospital the dog's bed, a doll-like affair and upon this the fluffy little animal reclines with a bored air.

It was found that the majority of the owners of patients were without children. Childless couples evidently have the time and money necessary to take such excellent care of their pets, while those with children, are not, as a general rule, possessors of the time to look after the dogs, or in case they have such pets, the means to provide hospital treatment for them, was the conclusion reached by the management.

The Quicksand ball club won its nineteenth game Sunday with Beattyville as the victim. The team has lost only five games. Plasterers in Louisville have won a wage advance to $10 per day.

HOW TO REPEL CHIGGER ATTACKS

Popular belief to the contrary, it's only a figurative sense that chiggers get under your skin. The little kill-joys of the summer picnic in the woods are right there on the surface all the time, and it's just because they are too small to be readily seen without a magnifying glass that the victims think he has been burrowed into or entered by way of his pores.

This is one of the new lights thrown upon the pest by Department Bulletin No. 986, Studies on the Biology and Control of Chiggers, prepared by H. E. Ewing, specialist in mites, and now issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The chigger doesn't make his presence felt at once. He first scurries about on the victim's skin but then when he is spotted under a magnifying glass it is almost impossible to catch him. Evidently, he tries to see how far he can go, for it has been determined that tight pieces of dress, such as garters and belts, limit the attacks of operation. Almost total immunity has been secured by wearing top shoes and tightly wrapped leggings. Low shoes are particularly favorable to the acquisition of chiggers. When a chigger finally decides to attach itself, he clamps down by inserting his feet under the skin, and then the trouble begins.

Much protection can be had from chigger attacks by properly clothing the legs or by the application of repellents either directly on the skin or on the under garments. For this purpose, sulphur has been found to be a sovereign remedy. Dusting the legs with sulphur has resulted in total immunity in most instances, and a similar treatment of the stockings has proved equally effective in keeping off the mites. Infested areas may be freed of chiggers by dusting with sulphur. For this the use of 50 pounds to the acre is recommended. On lawns the use of sulphur is unnecessary, as chiggers will disappear of themselves if the grass is kept cut short.

Chiggers can be best destroyed on humans before they become attached or very soon afterwards. After an exposure to chigger attacks the skins and ankles should be examined with a hand lens, even before any itching is felt. Applications of a thick lather of soap, commercial alcohol, or any of the lighter oils have been found to kill the larvae quite readily. Sulphur acts slowly, but if applied with soap and allowed

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 29—Several deposits of true Mexican onyx have been discovered near Horse Cave in Hart county and Cave City in Warren county by Dr. Charles H. Richardson, head of Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., the geologist reported here today. The Mexican

331 Students At School for Deaf

(By Associated Press)

Danville, Ky., Aug. 30—There were 331 students at the Kentucky School for the Deaf here during the school year 1921-22 and about the same number are expected for the next year, according to Superintendent Augustus Rogers. The school is filled to capacity at present and more room will be needed if many more students are to be received. The attendance at the school is about equally divided. There were 174 boys and 157 girls in the institution last year of whom 230 were in the first to fourth grades, and 101 in the fifth to eighth grades. Two hundred and four of the students are learning trades in the institution. Twenty-six are taking up carpentry; 22 printing; 23 shoemaking; 29 tailoring; 5 gardening, and 99 sewing and dress-making.

SOME REASONS FOR LETTERS THAT STRAY

Postmaster R. R. Burnam, Jr. of this city, has received a great many complaints from various people whose letters never reach their destination. This is mainly the fault of the senders themselves. There are many things about mailing a letter that must be observed. Postmaster Burnam has gathered together a few reasons why letters go astray. They are as follows:

Because you forgot to address it.

Because you forgot to stamp it.

Because you forgot to write the town or state on the envelope.

Because you didn't write the street and number plainly.

Because you used a cancelled stamp.

Because you used internal revenue stamps instead of postage stamps.

Because you used a foreign stamp.

Because you wrote the address so badly no one could read it.

Because you wrote the address on top of the envelope and it was obliterated by postoffice dating, receiving and cancelling stamps.

Because you put your letter in a blank envelope and sealed it and forwarded it to the dead letter office, where thousands upon thousands of valuable letters are daily destroyed because people are either careless or ignorant of the postal laws.

CAMPAIGN STARTED AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 30—Because the number of deaths from diphtheria in Kentucky has almost doubled in the last three years, and doubled needlessly, according to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, the State Board of Health already is starting a campaign which has as its sole object the lowering of the number of fatalities next winter from this disease.

There were 352 deaths from diphtheria reported in 1919, according to J. E. Blackerby, director of the Board of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics. The number rose in 1920 to 423 and last year jumped again to 644.

These deaths, Dr. McCormack says, every one could have been prevented if antitoxin in sufficient quantities had been administered early enough in the history of each case.

Steps being taken by the Board of Health now to lower the deaths from diphtheria this winter include the calling to all doctors' attention the fact that the board has available all the antitoxin needed, emphasizing the necessity of using this antitoxin before the disease has taken too firm a hold on its victim, and advocacy of the use of the Schick test in schools where there has been a case of diphtheria.

BARRED ROCKS LED IN EGG PRODUCTION

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Aug. 30—A flock of 36 Bared Plymouth Rocks owned by Harry A. Denig, Kenton county, led the state's 47 poultry demonstration flocks in July egg production with an average of 20.4 eggs produced by each hen, according to an announcement made today by J. H. Martin, in charge of poultry work at the College of Agriculture. The 47 flocks are being conducted as demonstrations by their owners who are cooperating with the college extension division in showing the value of recommended poultry practices.

Second honors for July egg production went to a flock of 20 Bared Plymouth Rocks owned by Mrs. W. O. Kirk, Philpot, Daviess county, these birds having averaged 18.9 eggs a hen during the month. This flock is also the leading one up to the present time in this year's demonstration, the birds in it having averaged 14.27 eggs each from Nov. 1, 1921, to Aug. 1, of this year. Third place in July egg production was taken by 100 eight Brahmas and White Leghorns owned by Mrs. Paul O'Connell, Menard, Breckinridge county. The birds in this flock averaged 17.8 eggs a hen during July.

Remaining flocks among the ten highest producing ones for the month together with their owners and average egg production, follow:

Michigan Can't Move Bumper Fruit Crop

(By Associated Press)
South Haven, Mich., Aug. 29—With a fruit crop in prospect valued by experts at $30,000,000—the greatest in many years—western Michigan is faced with a refrigerator car shortage, due to the railroad strike, that may mean a loss of millions to the thousands of persons engaged in this important Michigan industry. Michigan fruit shippers have asked for 25,000 cars in which to ship the state's bumper crop.

Lee county paid $184,467.54 in state taxes in 1921.

EXPORTS

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Takes the Nation's Principal Commodities to Gulf Ports

From Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, the great mills of the nation pour their cargoes of export flour into Southern Ports, via the L. & N., for shipment to all consuming nations of the world.

From Gary, Indiana, Chicago and Ohio producing points—from the great Birmingham steel and iron district—and from other manufacturing towns of the Central West and South the L. & N. hauls great shipments of steel, steel products, pig iron, cast iron pipe, and machinery to shipside at all Gulf Ports, for export to Europe, South America, the West Indies and the Orient.

From Missouri, Illinois and points in the Central West, North of the Ohio River, the L. & N. Railroad handles quantities of export grain shipments, through the ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola.

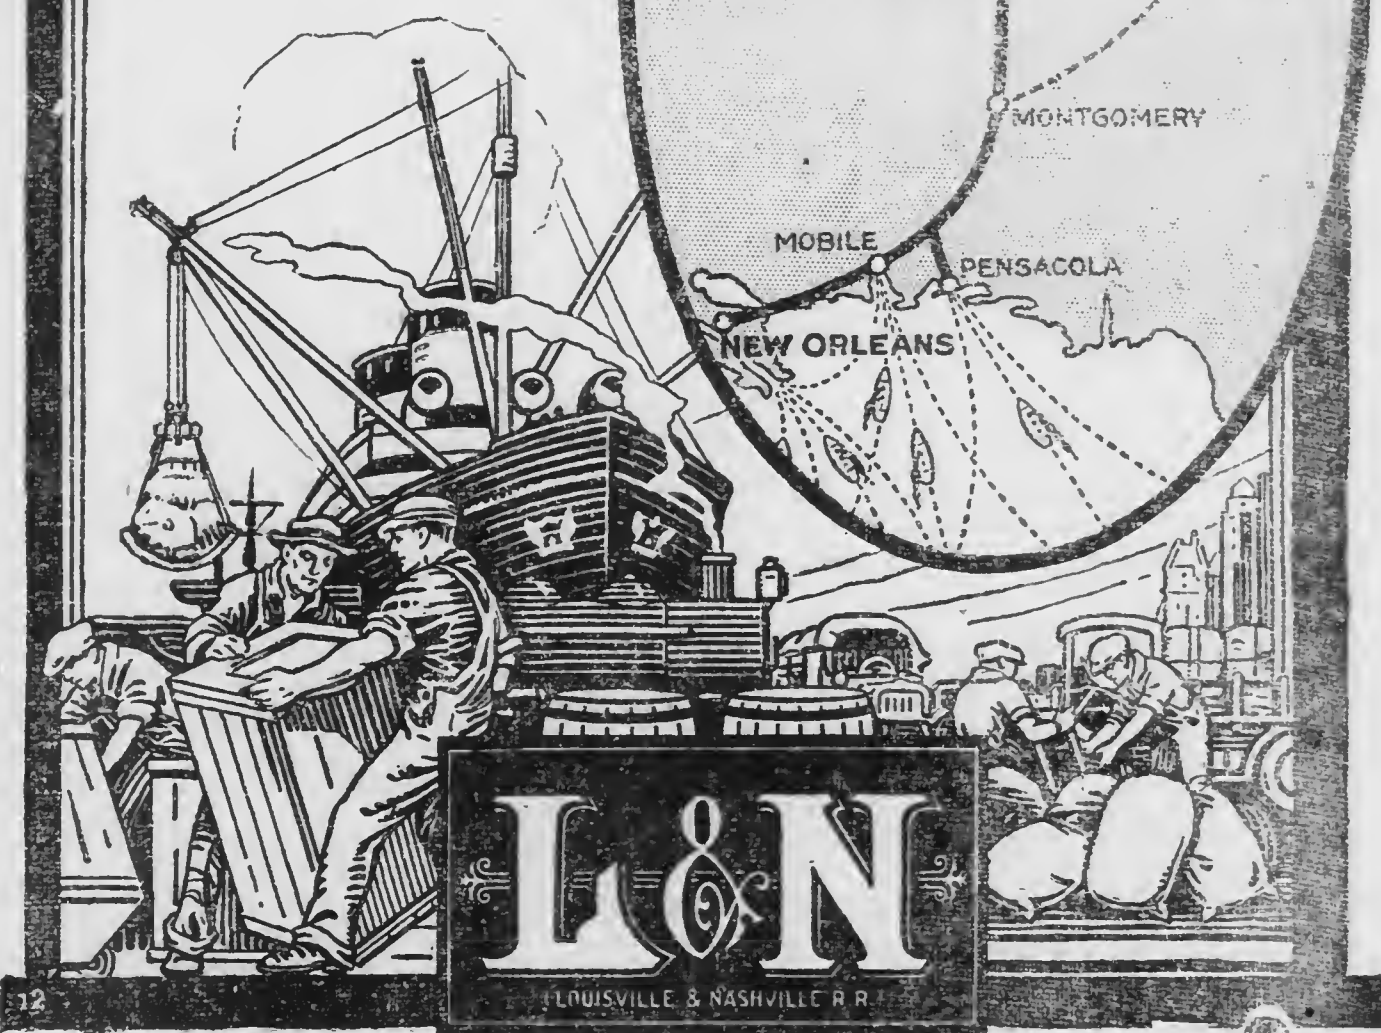

From Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Mississippi—the great Cotton Belt of the South—the L. & N. carries cotton for export to all the world.

Seventy-five per cent of the famous "White Burley" and "dark" tobacco crops of Kentucky and Tennessee is made along L. & N. tracks and largely transported by this railroad for export through the ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola.

From Alabama, Missouri, Georgia, Florida and Tennessee, large shipments of lumber are routed over the L. & N. to shipside at Southern Ports.

Many of these industries because of superior service offered by the L. & N. R. R., and freedom from congestion, select the ports of New Orleans, and Mobile, or Pensacola, in preference to those of the North Atlantic.

This condition, which makes for the general prosperity of the South, has been largely brought about by the efforts of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

WILL YOU HELP THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY TO WIN THIS CAMPAIGN?

If so the most helpful thing you can do now is to contribute to the Democratic Educational Campaign Fund so that the Educational work of the Democratic National Committee can be carried out as planned.

The Democratic National Committee Needs Money and Needs It NOW

For the purpose of getting the record of failure of this Republican Do-Nothing Congress and Do-Nothing Administration before the people, and to show them again the road to Democratic Prosperity, which they traveled for eight years of Democratic rule.

Send Your Contribution Today to the DAILY REGISTER.

The Democratic National Committee has arranged with the publisher of the Daily Register to receive and receipt for contributions. A duplicate receipt will be mailed from Democratic National Headquarters.

Give What You Can Afford—Much or Little—But Give It Now

The Democratic Party has no privileged classes, no protected profiteers, no trusts or moneybunds to appeal to. It represents only the people, therefore it appeals only to them.

This is a Democratic year. Do your share to help win the victory.

Democratic Prosperity vs. Republican Disaster

The estimated wealth of the United States when President Wilson went into office in 1913 was $185,000,000,000; it increased to $300,000,000,000 in eight years of Democratic rule—a gain of $115,000,000,000. The present wealth of the United States is $225,000,000,000—a loss of $75,000,000,000 in fifteen months under Republican rule.

Since the Republican party was voted into power in November, 1920, the American farmers alone have suffered a loss of nearly $30,000,000,000.

Some Republican Broken Promises

The Republicans promised the country PROSPERITY; they have given it ADVERSITY.

They promised to stimulate agriculture and business; they have given an industrial panic and destroyed our foreign markets. Foreign trade declined from $13,500,000,000 in 1920, to near $6,000,000,000 in 1922.

They promised to reduce taxes; they have shifted taxes of the multi-millionaire and profiteering class to the smaller taxpayers without lifting taxes or reducing them. Repeal of the Excess Profits tax relieved the Big Interests of paying $450,000,000 in taxes; reduction of the higher surtax relieved the of paying $61,500,000.

They promised to reduce the high cost of living; they have given a Profiteers' tariff bill which increases the high cost of living, and makes the farmer pay $5 on everything he buys for each $1 of "protection" he gets.

They promised to reduce the expenses of the government; they have increased the expenses of running the various departments of the government (1923 budget), three years after the war $536,000,000 compared to 1915, three years before the war, with an estimated deficit of $500,000,000 in addition—or $1,000,000,000 increase.

BIG CAMP ON AT DANIEL BOONE

One of the most successful Hi-Y Conferences ever held in Kentucky is in progress now at Camp Daniel Boone, State Y. M. C. A. camp on the Kentucky river a few miles from Nicholasville.

The conference is conducted under the auspices of E. V. Donaldson, Boys Work and Camp Secretary on the State staff, and is designed to fit the high school students for leadership in Hi-Y activities.

A dozen or more high schools of the state are represented by between fifty and seventy-five boys.

C. B. Loomis, International Y. Secretary from Atlanta, Ga., is one of the leading speakers at the conference. Others are L. J. Carter, Louisville, and C. F. Zerfoss, Lexington.

The morning hours at camp are devoted to conference and the afternoon to recreation, including swimming, hiking and tennis and other outdoor games and sports.

The training program given in the camp is along the lines suggested in the Hi-Y slogan which is to "create, maintain and extend a high standard of Christian character in high schools," a special feature of the conference being the emphasis on the "three C's"—Clean living, clean speech and clean sport.

The close of the Hi-Y conference this week at Camp Daniel Boone will terminate the season at this summer camp of the State Y. M. C. A.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Frank P. Caldwell's real estate business has grown so recently that he has opened offices in the upstairs buildings over Culton's millinery store on Main street. He will have it nicely furnished and arranged to take care of all business entrusted to him.

Col. Bob Walker has gone to LaFollette, Tenn., where he will start the races and judge the show rings at the big fair which is quite a feature there. The Tennesseans couldn't have found a more competent man for the work either.

Allen Douglas, who won the Roque championship of Indiana in the third division, has returned home after his vacation in Indiana. The medal he is to receive for winning will be presented some time in September as it is now being made. "Uncle George" Noland says they must not be very good up in Indiana for "Skinny" to beat them all.

Sam Black and R. G. Dixon, both of this city, have returned to Louisville where they will be working during the fall racing season at Churchill Downs.

Prof. B. F. Gabby, teacher at Madison High School, has purchased a new Studebaker five-passenger car from the Dixie Auto Company here. Mrs. Z. T. Rice also has a new Studebaker which she purchased from the Serving Circle of the Baptist church for $1,000. The Baptist ladies won this car in the Lexington Herald contest sometime ago.

Two trainloads of automobiles have passed through Richmond in last two days. The first was composed of Ford cars going South while the second was made up of Studebaker autos from Knoxville on their way to Cleveland.

Waco's base ball team will be the attraction at Walker's Park here Sunday. They will meet the Richmond team which is headed by Charley Rogers.

In the double header between Louisville and Indianapolis Tuesday, Earl Combs made one hit four times up in each game. In the first game he handled five flies without an error but went the entire second contest without a fielding chance.

The Danville nine won its 7th straight by defeating the Vatter-Odtkin team from Frankfort by a score of 6 to 3. They will have some tough opposition Labor Day when they face Jim Lackey pitching for Paint Lick.

Another high school foot ball star has decided to enter Centre. The information comes from the Danville Daily Messenger which says that Turner Browder, a star on the Louisville High School football team, will come to Centre College this year. Young Browder is only 18 years old, but weighs 160 pounds and is an all-round athlete. He played center on the Louisville eleven and was every game played last year. He will be within the Freshmen team under Chick Murphy, and from his looks and reputation ought to make good.

Rev. O. B. Crockett, of Winchester, who has been secretary of the Educational Board of the Kentucky Wesleyan College, has resigned his position to take effect with the meeting of the Kentucky Conference which is meeting at Harrodsburg. Dr. W. E. Arnold, of Louisville, president of the board, has been recommended to succeed Dr. Crockett.

PIRATES GIVE WRIGHT TRIAL

John "Rasty" Wright, star twirler, who has pitched for several teams in the surrounding territory, including Irvine, Winchester and Lexington, passed through here Tuesday from Irvine on his way to Pittsburg where he will receive a try out with the Pittsburg Pirates of the National League. Wright first came into prominence as a pitcher while twirling under Irvine colors in the baseball season of 1921. He pitched wonderful ball for the Irvine team, which made them one of the most dangerous teams in the state last year. He practically made that team by his dazzling work on the hill. He pitched so many faultless games that the Pirates were attracted by his performances and soon had him signed.

Although still their property he pitched for Winchester in the Blue Grass League toward the close of the first half of its season. Here he continued his fine work. Later they let him go to Lexington where he pitched one or two games in good form. The Pirates, however, notified him that if he was to play in the Blue Grass League it would have to be with Winchester, so his appearance in a Lexington uniform ceased. Since then he has been with Irvine. He has many good friends here who wish him the best of luck with the Pirates.

Woman's Ills Make Unhappy Homes

There is no question but what the ill of woman conspire against domestic happiness. The husband cannot understand these troubles and the physician finds it hard to cure them; therefore the overworked wife and mother continues to drag around day in and day out with headaches and backaches, fretful and nervous. Such women should be guided by the experiences of women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper. Many of them declare that they have been restored to health, strength and consequent happiness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and all other medicines had failed to help them. It will surely pay other women who suffer from such ailments to try it.
